

New Digital Literacy Project Website!

The Digital Literacy Project has a new home on the internet!

digital-literacy.atwaterlibrary.ca

A big thanks goes out to the many people who gave good advice, migrated old data, worked out server and DNS issues and customized CSS.

An especially big thanks goes out to Larry], Brendan], Colin], and our own Atwater Library and Computer Centre IT master Charlotte.

I am very excited to re-engage online with the community], locally and beyond, with our new site.

Check back here for updates] about our workshops] and events].

We are also beginning to share some of our in-house educational materials] as well as tools and resources] that the Digital Literacy Project team] thinks are awesome and use all the time.

Check out our Facebook group], subscribe to our RSS] feed, read] about what we have been up to in the last few months and comment on our blog posts.

Stay Tuned!
