

the importance of information literacy

The Internet is like a library without a classification scheme, unless you know how to search. Which is why having libraries with digital literacy workshops and instruction is even more relevant and important.

We still need libraries in the digital age